We shall handle those methodological concepts that have had a substantial impact on teaching Chinese as a foreign language throughout history, but also the modern methods that have proved to produce positive results in the past 10-15 years.

Course Number 2204425	Course Title Special Topic in Chinese Literature	Credit Hours (3 credit hours)
Prerequisite: 2204318
Course Description A particular literary topic is selected for study and analysis under the instructor's supervision (literary analysis, outline and text interpretation, historical and cultural background, etc.). This topic may be chosen from both classical and contemporary Chinese literature.

Course Number 2204426	Course Title Chinese Civilization	Credit Hours (3 credit hours)
Prerequisite: 2204318
Course Description Emphasis is placed on the historical, geographic and social circumstances of China as the basic focus of this course. Major authors and texts representing the Chinese civilization will be studied at length. Media material will be used.

Course Number 2204427	Course Title Contemporary Chinese Thought	Credit Hours (3 credit hours)
Prerequisite: 2204318
Course Description This course tends to offer the participant an ample understanding of contemporary Chinese thought. After situating contemporary China in her ideological and political context, participants proceed to analyze the nation's intellectuals, thinkers, social and human development. The final object will be an attempt to identify Chinese thought in a broad sense. This course focuses on Chinese thought with an emphasis on how Chinese thought can be compared and contrasted with other nations' thought.
