Course Description

| | | |
|--|-------------------|----------------------|
| 2204096 | Intensive Russian | (6 non-credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (-) | | |
| After the second semester of the first year, the students can sit for a proficiency exam in Russian. Students who pass this exam will be able to continue studying the Russian courses offered in the second year. Students who fail in this exam or opt not to take it should study and pass Intensive Russian that will bridge the gap between the courses offered in the first year, which are general, and the courses offered in the second year, which are specialized. The course focuses on conversation and listening skills. | | |

| | | |
|--|--------------------------------|------------------|
| 2204101 | Russian for Specialization (1) | (6 credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (none) | | |
| This course targets students with no prior knowledge of the Russian language and aims at gradually introducing and developing all main four skills: reading, writing, speaking and listening through situations and contexts of the daily life. | | |

| | | |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------|
| 2204102 | Russian for Specialization (2) | (6 credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (2204101) | | |

This course builds on students' previous experience with Russian, adding to it more language rules, more vocabulary and more sentence structure as necessary, enabling them to read, write, listen and speak at a higher level within the context of daily situations.

| | | |
|---|----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 2204129 | Russian for Beginners (1) | (3 credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (none) | | |
| In combination with Russian for Beginners (2) and (3), this course introduces students to the basics of Russian language and Russian culture. The aim of the course is to develop communication skills in everyday life and simple situations. The course proposes a full competence in communication strategies and not only a linear assimilation of grammatical knowledge. | | |

| | | |
|--|----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 2204139 | Russian for Beginners (2) | (3 credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (2204129) | | |
| This course introduces students deeper into the grammatical structures of the Russian language communication strategies in more advanced situations and cultural contexts. More relevant grammatical matters will be studied at length. | | |

| | | |
|--|----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 2204149 | Russian for Beginners (3) | (3 credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (2204139) | | |
| The course is regarded as a continuation for the other two Russian courses (Russian for Beginners 1 & 2); it trains the four language skills, listening comprehension, writing, reading and oral skills, but on a more advanced level. After finishing this course, the student will be able to act with self-assurance in everyday life situations. The course contains some new topics such as: description of people's appearance, education and school, entertainment and TV, work and economics in Russia, industry and other more topics related to the Russian society and culture. | | |

| | | |
|---|---|-------------------------|
| 2204201 | Listening and Conversation/Russian | (3 credit hours) |
| Prerequisite: (2204096, 2204097) | | |
| This course mainly enhances oral skills with the aim of practicing communication strategies in most kinds of conversation situations. General subjects will be discussed by means of interaction among students and the instructor and among students themselves. Students will be trained in listening comprehension through audio-visual aids. | | |

| | | |
|---|----------------------------|-------------------------|
